New seller's permit replaces resale certificate

New legislation, SB 6173, requires businesses to use a DOR-issued seller's permit rather than a resale certificate when making wholesale purchases. The law goes into effect on January 1, 2010. In the fall of 2009, many businesses will be issued a seller's permit based on their industry type and reporting history. Other taxpayers that regularly purchase items at wholesale, such as farmers and nonprofit fundraising organizations, must apply directly to the Department for a seller's permit. Seller's permits must be renewed every two or four years.

Special rules apply to the construction industry. Qualifying contractors must reapply every year because seller's permits for the construction industry are only valid for 12 months. Contractors will use a separate seller's permit application that includes detailed information on materials and labor purchased.

Monthly filers must file and pay electronically

The Legislature passed a law, SSB 5571, requiring all monthly filers to file and pay their taxes electronically starting with the July 2009 return, due by August 25, 2009.

Businesses will have their choice of payment options including Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT), e-check, and credit card. To register for E-file, go to <http://dor.wa.gov> and click on "Register Now" in the logon area.

Digital products now subject to sales tax

New legislation, ESHB 2075, clarifies the taxability of certain products and services provided electronically. It defines digital products and explains how they are taxed. It also explains the goods and services that don't fall under the definition of digital products, and exempts digital products that are resold, used as an ingredient or component of a new product, or given away for free. Special Notices that address specific digital products and services affected by this legislation will be issued soon.

For more information on all new legislation, visit our web site at dor.wa.gov

Motor Vehicle Sales, Leases, and Rentals

The sale, lease, or rental of a motor vehicle, licensed for on-road use, is subject to a tax of three-tenths of one percent (.003) of the selling price.

This tax is in addition to the state and local sales tax. It is not due if the rental car tax applies.
